ARNOLDY ORDERS STRICTER RULES

THOSE WHO DO NOT DIM HEADLIGHTS MUST BE ARRESTED, CHIEF SAYS.

More rigid enforcement of the new uniform traffic act has been ordered by John P. Arnoldy, state highway patrol chief. Arrests of night drivers who do not dim headlights was the thing most emphasized by the patrol chief.

"Sufficient publicity has been given this section of the new traffic act so that motorists throughout the state should know that they are required to dim their lights when passing traffic at night," he said. He also said that the new law, in his belief, would result in the lowering of the highway accident rate as many of the crashes at night were caused by glaring headlights.

The law, however, does not apply to vehicles which are not equipped with multiple beams on their headlights.

Other highway laws which were emphasized by Chief Arnoldy were those in regard to tank trucks stopping before crossing a railroad track and that making it necessary for a driver of any commercial caravan where a vehicle is pulled, to have brakes which can be operated from the tow car. This last provision applies also to drivers of new automobiles in transit.

Declaring that the highways of Minnesota must be made safer even if wholesale arrests are necessary, the highway patrol head instructed his men to go into action whenever an infringement of the law was detected.

Mexican Worker Pleads Guilty In Assault Case

Ramon Novarro, Mexican beet worker, held in the county jail since last week when he was arrested on charges of slaying another worker, Joe Archigo, who, he claimed, owed him money, was given a suspended sentence of 100 fine or ninety days in jail, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault in the city court this morning at 10 a. m.

Recommendation of changing the charge from felonious assault to simple assault was made by County Attorney James A. Carr, after a thorough investigation into the cause of the act led him to believe it was in self-defense to some extent.

The sentence was suspended on the promise of Novarro to pay all expense due to Archigo's injury and to contribute to the support of the Archigo family during the time he was unable to work.

GUARDSMEN READY FOR 'WAR' BATTLE

'STREAMLINED' MOTOR FORCES, AIR SQUADRONS, RADIO TO BE GIVEN TEST.

Camp Ripley, Minn., Aug. 11 (U P).—Preparations were nearing completion in the rival camps of the "blue" and "green" armies for the opening of "warfare" Monday in a test of strength of the fourth army.

Camps of the opposing factions were in order today; troops were being instructed in the fundamentals of the "campaign."

Motorized equipment, developed to a point that has won for the fourth army the title of the nation's "streamlined" forces, continued to roll into camps today for use in the field maneuvers.

The "eyes" of the army—nine observation planes of the 109th squadron of the national guard, with headquarters at St. Paul—dropped over the far flung camps of the "blue" and "green" factions today in trial maneuvers. The planes, together with the 314th reserve squadron of Kansas City, will be used in directing ground troops and in plotting strategy.

The latest in two way radio communication between planes and between observers and the ground will be brought into service.

Hundreds of miles of modern field telephone wire was being strung today in operating bases of the troops. Additional miles of wire and radio bases, prepared to send and receive coded messages, will be brought into service during the actual maneuvers next week.

The "transceivers" are hand powered to permit elimination of batteries.

Army Waits Order To Go Over Top In Battle

At Peiping United States and other marines went on guard at the Soviet Russian embassy after receipt of reports that White Russians—allegedly agents of Japan—might seek to raid it as they did the Russian consulate general at Tientsin.

But the situation here was one of immediate gravity. Just before noon, the Japanese cruiser and destroyer steamed up the Whangpoo river past the ancient Chinese forts and dropped anchor near the Japanese Nippon Yusen Kasha wharves off the international settlement.

Japanese sources said that in addition to their usual complements, the two warships carried two battalions of bluejackets organized as a landing party.

The remainder of a battle fleet was expected here during the day. Chinese sources reported that the government had notified Chinese residents in Japan to concentrate at Yokohama, Kobe and Nagasaki, the principal ports ready to be embarked on 13 specially chartered Chinese steamships for China.

It was reported that many or all of the 20,000 Chinese residing on Formosa Island, the Japanese possession off the southeast coast of China, would be evacuated.

Chinese dispatches reported that all Japanese women and children would be evacuated from Tsingtao, strategic port up the coast from Shanghai, by this week end and that the able-bodied Japanese men would remain as a volunteer corps, ready to aid any Japanese seamen or troops landed there.

lent sudden, dramatic emphasis to a meeting of navy chiefs in Tokyo yesterday. These high officers, meeting under Vice Admiral Mitsumasa Yonal, navy minister, decided to take punitive action against Chinese at Shanghai unless they received satisfaction for the killing of the two navy men at the Hungjiao airdrome.

Now it seemed that at the same time they dispatched a war fleet, for information here was that all ships involved in the reinforcement race had left Japan within the last 24 hours.

An atmosphere of electric tension spread through the international settlement. Already tens of thousands of terrified Chinese were sheltered there, fearing a repetition of the "war" of 1932 when a Japanese army and navy shelled and bombed the city.
